PRACTICING BEAUTIFUL HANDWRITING

FROM A TO Z
Lowercase & Uppercase

BeautifulHandwriting.net

Preparation - Before we start

1/ Choosing a suitable pen and protecting your pen

You should choose a fountain pen which is designed to write thick and thin stroke (please note that some kinds of fountain pens are not able for thick and thin strokes, so be careful before buying a fountain pen).

Although many ball pens can also make thin and thick strokes, it is not a good idea for beginners to use ball pens to practice beautiful handwriting in a serious way. It is because handwriting practicing requires beginners to master styles of strokes and letters perfectly, while it is hard to control the styles as the slippery balls of ball pens. Also, thick and thin strokes written by a ball pen usually does not look as beautiful as by a fountain pen.

(Please note that it does not mean you need to use your fountain pen for your whole life. Using fountain pen is just the first step to improve your handwriting. Then you may choose any kind of your favorite pen for your business.

After buying a new fountain pen, you should learn how to clean a fountain pen to maintain ink flow. For example, many new fountain pens should be cleaned with warm water before using (If not, you may get ink sticking problem). Depended on what kind of fountain pen you use, try to search and find out what is a best way to maintain your pen quality.

2/ How to hold a pen when writing

Standard way to hold a pen:

Using three fingers (middle finger, index finger and thumb) of your right hand to hold your pen. The distance between your index finger to the top of the pen nib is around 1 inch

Note: If you think you cannot change your habits of holding a pen immediately, you may keep your habit. The thing is you need to know how to make thick and thin strokes easily when writing.
